Administrative Systems
POFT 2331

Credit: 3 semester credit hours (3 hours lecture)
Prerequisite/Co-requisite: POFT 1301, POFT 1329, & POFT 2301

Course Description

Advanced concepts of project management and office procedures integrating software applications. Emphasizes responsibilities of the secretary, decision-making competencies, and human relation skills. This is a capstone course for the Associate of Applied Science in Office Technology Administration. *A grade of “C” or better must be earned in this course for credit toward degree requirements. Course level: Advanced

PURPOSE: The purpose of this course is to give a perspective on the role of the administrative assistant in the office. It helps the students to understand the functions that make up an office support or information processing system and acquaints them with today’s business terminology.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:
1. Identify and select the best procedures for office administration.
2. Select materials and equipment necessary in an office.
4. Use critical thinking in the solution of problems in common office situations.
5. Independently determine employers' expectations and needs.
6. Demonstrate ethical principles in the solution of conflicts in the workplace.
7. Demonstrate qualities and positive personality traits that allow students to develop effectively in their profession.
8. Identify and describe sources of job information and develop job interview skills.

Disabilities Statement
The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1992 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 are federal anti-discrimination statutes that provide comprehensive civil rights for persons with disabilities. Among other things, these statutes require that all students with documented disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodations for their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact the Special Populations Coordinator at (409) 880-1737 or visit the office in Student Services, Cecil Beeson Building. You may also visit the online resource at http://www.lit.edu/depts/stuserv/special/default.aspx

Student Code of Conduct Statement
It is the responsibility of all registered Lamar Institute of Technology students to access, read, understand and abide by all published policies, regulations, and procedures listed in the LIT Catalog and Student Handbook. The LIT Catalog and Student Handbook may be accessed at www.lit.edu or obtained in print upon request at the Student Services Office. Please note that the online version of the LIT Catalog and Student Handbook supersedes all other versions of the same document.
